Photographing the Muslim World

Chat With Muslim photographer Peter Sanders

During the four decades of travel, Muslim photographer Peter Sanders journeyed across the three continents of the ancient Islamic civilization, and enjoyed the diversity of the culture and history.

Peter Sanders began his career in the 1960s as one of London's leading photographers. In 1971 Sanders embarked on a spiritual trip to Makkah where he photographed the Hajj pilgrimage.

Having traveled far and wide, Peter Sanders has built up an archive of photographs that are in great demand from publishers and Media houses around the world.

His classic work "In the Shade of the Tree" represents a small selection from this rich collection of spiritual images.
